

Hotchkiss Insurance Acquires Texas' InCore Group

Hotchkiss Insurance has acquired InCore Group, an independent insurance consulting agency serving Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. This move expands Hotchkiss' footprint for commercial insurance and employee benefits into West Texas and surrounding states.

Lubbock, Texas-based InCore Group is known for its innovative strategies and client transparency, which aligns with Hotchkiss Insurance's ethos. The InCore Group team will remain under the operational leadership of Principal and founder, Riley Dearing.

"Through our focus on providing exceptional customer service and commitment to a transparent consulting approach, partnering with Hotchkiss makes sense. It will allow us to further broaden our range of products and services while positioning us for significant growth in the West," Dearing said.

Founded in 1975, Hotchkiss Insurance specializes in tailored insurance solutions for businesses in the construction, green industries, and hospitality sectors.