Founded in 1923, BBC&K has laid deep roots in the Miami Valley area of Ohio and have earned a stellar reputation for their unwavering commitment to exceptional service. Their prompt, personalized attention has fostered customer loyalty and earned countless referrals from satisfied clients, solidifying their reputation of industry leading client experience. Over the decades, the agency has successfully expanded its expertise in auto, home, and business insurance while also refining its group health and long-term care departments to meet growing demand.

"BBC&K has set a high standard for quality and trust in the insurance industry, and we are honored to welcome them to the King Risk Partners family," said Malcolm King, CEO of King Risk Partners. "Their commitment to building strong client relationships and their decades of expertise perfectly align with our vision of partnering with established, reputable agencies. This acquisition not only expands our footprint into Ohio but also reinforces our ability to provide top-tier service in the Midwest."

Agency partners Daniel Kronauge, Scott Barker and Bob Collins, echoed their excitement about the partnership: "Joining forces with King Risk Partners is a tremendous opportunity for our agency and our clients. Our priority has always been exceptional customer service, and this partnership enables us to expand our personal and business insurance offerings while maintaining the high standards of care and satisfaction our clients have come to expect. Together, we'll continue delivering the trusted, tailored coverage that defines BBC&K."

This acquisition highlights King Risk Partners' ongoing strategy to grow through partnerships with respected agencies while maintaining a steadfast focus on quality, integrity, and client satisfaction.
