Alliant Insurance Services Acquires Johnson Benefit Planning in Oregon

By Alliant / June 10, 2025

Employee benefits firm adds decades of consulting expertise to Alliant's national platform

IRVINE, CA — Alliant Insurance Services has announced the acquisition of Johnson Benefit Planning, a respected employee benefits consulting firm with offices in Bend and West Linn, Oregon, strengthening the firm's presence and capabilities in the Pacific Northwest.

Johnson Benefit Planning has built a reputation for providing innovative, client-focused benefits strategies to both public and private sector employers. Known for its deep expertise, collaborative client service, and commitment to integrity, the firm delivers tailored solutions that help employers navigate a complex and constantly evolving benefits landscape.

"Johnson Benefit Planning brings a long-standing legacy of excellence, trust, and forward-thinking strategy to Alliant," said Greg Zimmer, Chief Executive Officer of Alliant. "Their personalized approach to consulting and dedication to creating lasting partnerships aligns perfectly with our values and enhances our ability to deliver targeted, effective solutions to clients."

The Johnson Benefit Planning team specializes in building benefits strategies that align with clients' unique organizational goals while addressing employee needs and ensuring long-term fiscal responsibility. By fostering strong communication and partnership with each client, the firm has developed benefits programs that deliver lasting value and measurable outcomes.

"Joining Alliant allows us to preserve our personalized, consultative approach while gaining access to a national platform with powerful resources and capabilities," said Del Johnson, Chief Executive Officer of Johnson Benefit Planning. "We are excited to expand our impact while continuing to provide the thoughtful, tailored service our clients have come to expect."

With more than 50 years in the insurance industry, Del Johnson is widely respected for his deep expertise, long-standing client relationships, and unwavering commitment to excellence. His reputation as a trusted advisor and industry leader has made him a valued partner to clients and colleagues alike. The Johnson Benefit Planning team will join Alliant, with the terms of the agreement undisclosed.
