Johnson & Johnson to Acquire Assets of Georgia-Based National Program Management

Johnson & Johnson will expand its presence in Georgia by acquiring the assets of National Program Management (NPM) located in Alpharetta. The parties expect the transaction to close Sept. 1, 2020.

National Program Management's origins date back to the mid-1980s when the company was formed as a wholesale broker specializing in environmental property & casualty insurance. In 2014, NPM acquired the assets of the Leverett Insurance Group, Inc., formed in 1985 as a full-service wholesale brokerage firm. That acquisition expanded NPM's brokerage capabilities to include energy, transportation, real estate, manufacturing, retail, construction, non-profits, and professional service firms.

Johnson & Johnson is a fourth generation, family owned managing general agency based in Charleston, South Carolina.

According to Scott Lewis, general manager of NPM, the acquisition by Johnson & Johnson strengthens NPM's agent relationships through expanded products and services.

Founded in 1930, Johnson & Johnson is a full-service MGA which provides E&S markets, standard markets, and Premium Financing to Independent Insurance Agents within Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, and Virginia. In addition, Johnson & Johnson offers private flood and certain program business nationwide.
